Mackerel Notes.

The fare of sch. Henry W. Longfellow sold to D. E. Woodbury at $8.75 per bbl. for rimmed and plain.

The fare of sch. J. W. Lufkin sold to Charles J. Lawson at $8.25 per barrel.

Sch. Natalie B. Nickerson is at Boston from Georges this morning with 75 bbls. of fresh mackerel, which sold at 11 cents apiece.

The incoming seiners all report that fog has greatly interfered with fishing operations for the past two weeks and that there has been no good chance to look for fish.

Sch. Arthur D. Story has been all over the Bay of Fundy and set at a school of fish 45 miles southeast of Isle au Haut, about on eastern Jefferies. The Story is in port to have her seine fixed and will go back to the Bay of Fundy.

Mackerel are reported between Georges and Brown's bank, working north into the Bay of Fundy.

The netters landed about 40 barrels of fresh mackerel at the Fort this morning. Sales at 10 1-2 cents apiece.

A DOLLAR ADVANCE.

Salt Mackerel Took Another Upward Bound To-day.

Jordan Buys Fare at Season's Highest Figures.

William H. Jordan bought the fare of salt mackerel of sch. Margaret Mather this noon, paying therefor $9.50 per barrel for rimmed and $9.25 for plain. The trip is a fine one, the mackerel being all late caught Georges fish of excellent quality.

This is the highest price paid for mackerel thus far this year and is an advance of one dollar per barrel on plain and 75 cents on rimmed fish over Monday's last sales.

Mr. Jordan has been a very prominent figure in the mackerel market since the season opened, and his large buying has been responsible in a great measure for the firm and upward tendency of prices.

THE LOBSTER.

The Toothsome Crustacean Is Getting Scarce.

Captain J. W. Collins, chairman of the commission on inland fisheries and game, is profoundly convinced that the General Court will have to take drastic measures to save the lobster industry in Massachusetts.

The lobsters, large and small, have been so largely caught that the average lobsterman on our coast at the present time must be having a very hard time of it, the statistics showing that only a very few lobsters will be found in hauling 100 pots.

Captain Collins thinks that the remedy must be found in a close season, to give time for the lobsters released by the United States Fish Commissioners to mature.

TINKERS DOWN EAST.

Fifty Barrels at Boston from Portland To-day.

Six Hundred Barrels Medium Threes From Yarmouth.

Capt. Frank Hall of sch. Sarah E. Lee, which arrived with such a fine salt mackerel fare Wednesday afternoon, reports getting his trip on Georges in latitude 41 14, longitude 67.05 in 36 fathoms of water. When he first got there he saw schs. Vera, Hattie M. Graham, Grayling and Frank Butler. The fog soon shut down and he did not see them again. The fish were caught in the fog.

Six hundred barrels of fresh mackerel arrived at Boston from Yarmouth, N. S., to-day.

Fifty barrels of fresh tinker mackerel arrived at Boston from Portland to-day.

The fresh mackerel which have arrived at Boston recently from Halifax are maller than the fish which have been taken off the South Shoal Lightship and would go about 320 count to a salt barrel.
